Adopted Flag as Emblem of Human Rights.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Veterans of the Civil War, here for the annual reunion of the Grand Army of the Republic, were formally welcomed to the capital tonight by President Wilson, who told them their patriotism had united the country.

The president spoke amid scenes of patriotic fervor in the crowded hall, into which the old census building had been converted. Col. J. Palmer, commander-in-chief of the G.A.R., introduced him with a speech of welcome, and then the president spoke.

He spoke of the terrible struggle which had united the country, and of the patriotism which had won the war. He said that the veterans of the Civil War were the true patriots of the country, and that their patriotism had united the country.

He then adopted the flag as the emblem of human rights, and declared that the flag was the emblem of the rights of all men. He then spoke of the patriotism which had won the war, and of the patriotism which had united the country.

PRISON SURVIVORS.

One of the events of the day was a reunion of former prisoners of war, where several hundred survivors of the Libby prison assembly. The veterans canvassed their ages and struck an average of 72 years. New England, Oregon, California, Texas and nearly every Middle Northern State were represented. While the reunion of the prisoners was in progress a man entered the campfire room who wore no uniform of blue, but had in the lapel of his coat the emblem of the Confederacy. He was welcomed with a rousing rebel yell.

A reunion of the sixth army corps was held at 10 o'clock on the site of old Fort Stevens, where Lincoln stood on the firing line at the defense of Washington. Hundreds of veterans participated in the exercises, and later at Camp Emery with the Sixth Corps joined in a reunion of the army of the Cumberland. Exercises also were held at the monument of Gen. Grant in the Botanical Garden, near the Capitol.

Although the day was crowded with sightseeing trips for the veterans, many were conserving their energies for the great welcoming campfire to night at which President Wilson will speak.

F-4 VICTIMS BURIED.

Disembodied Bodies in Four Caskets Laid to Rest in Arlington Cemetery with Full Military Honors. (BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Full military honors today were accorded fourteen unidentified victims, who lost their lives when the United States submarine F-4 mysteriously sank at the entrance to Honolulu Harbor some months ago. Their disembodied bodies, in four caskets, were buried in the Arlington national cemetery, the services being attended by high officials of the navy and others.

As the flag-draped caskets were drawn along Pennsylvania avenue to Arlington, thousands of Civil War veterans and others attending the Grand Army of the Republic encampment lined the street and uncovered their heads in reverence.

The bodies, which were recovered only recently after having been submerged for months, were in such condition as to make their individual identification impossible.

There were twenty-one men aboard the submarine. Four bodies were identified and buried elsewhere. The names of the seventeen unidentified, including three, whose bodies never were recovered, are given by the Navy Department as follows:

Officers—Lieut. Alfred L. Edwards, who commanded the F-4, and Ensign Timothy A. Parker of Kentucky. Enlisted men—Clark G. Buck, Tacoma, Wash.; Ernest C. Carvin, New Orleans; Harley Colville, Seattle; Walter F. Covington, Fort Worth, Tex.; George L. Deeth, Portland, Ore.; Allen Grondie, San Francisco; Edwin S. Hill, Iowa; Francis M. Hughes, Los Angeles, Cal.; Alfred F. Jennie, Festus, Mo.; Archie H. Linger, Erie, Pa.; Horace L. Moore, Germantown, Pa.; William S. Belson, New York; Frank G. Pierard, Laverne, Cal.; Henry A. Withers, San Diego, Cal.; and Frederick Gillman, St. Louis.

The funeral escort was composed of all the regular troops and blue-jackets in this vicinity.

HAPPY CONVICTS HURL CONFETTI.

Gay Murderers, Joyful Thugs Cheer for Osborne.

Cabarets, Picnics and Feasts Behind Auburn Walls.

Sing Sing Wires Greetings. Collect Night Rates.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

AUBURN (N. Y.) Sept. 28.—The inmates of Auburn prison today observed the second anniversary of Tom Brown, commemorating the entry of Thomas Mott Osborne into Auburn prison for voluntary term of one week to learn the faults of the prison system from actual experience. Mr. Osborne, now warden of Sing Sing, was present as guest of honor, and, at the suggestion of his convict friends, became again "Tom Brown." In the alias he assumed during his self-imposed term of confinement, he wore his old prison uniform. The most elaborate celebration ever held in any prison in this country occupied the 1450 prisoners afternoon and evening.

After a costume parade and carnival with confetti, cabarets, picnics, spreads and a band concert, the men entertained friends from the outside and closed with the illumination of the prison yard tonight, over 10,000 electric lights being strung in Japanese lanterns. Banners and transparencies carried in the procession centered upon the theme "Tom Brown, emancipator of the men in prison." During the day many telegrams were received congratulating the Auburn Mutual Welfare League upon the success of the reform work done by the convicts themselves in the past two years.

Sing Sing leaguers wired, "Give all the boys of Auburn the message that only you can give. We wish we were all with you to aid our Auburn brothers in this commemoration. Love from all."

The convicts established a new prison sensation by presenting a solid gold Knights of Columbus watch charm to Principal Keeper John Martin in recognition of his hearty cooperation in the convict plan of self-discipline. In past years the "P. K." was always the object of hatred, because he had administered discipline under old rules. Over $30,000 of flags and bunting were used in decorating the prison yard.

Defies Machine Guns.

noon Wednesday to noon Saturday, over (deleted) shells burst among the German intrenchments, including thousands upon thousands of huge projectiles more powerful than any yet launched from French guns in field warfare.

On my recent visit to the Champagne front I got a good idea of the difficulties confronting an attacking force on either side. Not only are the opposing trenches 300 or 400 yards apart along the Aisne Valley, but to reach the German lines from the French means running first downhill and then uphill across absolutely open ground covered with pitfalls made by shell craters, exploded mines and dished trenches.

During their charge the attacking force would always have to face an intense rifle and machine gun fusillade, and at many points be enfiladed as well. During my visit seven weeks ago the French sappers were bursting mines under the enemy almost daily, an operation which at times seemed rather purposeless.

MINES PAVE THE WAY.

In the light of present developments it is easy to understand the mining was deliberately designed to pave the way for the artillery cyclone even then in contemplation, by breaking up the continuity of the German earthworks. For cavalry to traverse territory of this kind appeared impossible then. In the last three days the impossibility has been achieved, however, and at some points horsemen have even sabred German artillerymen. How they managed to get across cannot be fully told.

The German counter-attacks in the Argonne were no surprise to the French high command, which had carefully planned for resistance to just such an onslaught at that point. In all but a few unimportant places the famous "curtain of shell fire" was sufficient to hold off the Crown Prince's troops, whose losses proportionately far exceeded those of the French in Champagne.

GERMAN CAPTIVES LAND IN ENGLAND.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 28.—Three hundred men, the first detachment of the German prisoners captured by the British in the last battle on the western front, were landed here today. The majority of them are young men in good physical condition and well clothed, although much bedraggled and otherwise showing the effects of the severe ordeal which they have undergone.

Relief From Dyspepsia

A Simple Method Which Should Be Tried by Every Sufferer.

There is no sufferer from dyspepsia or other digestive troubles but what would be greatly benefited by a diet embodying principally the wonderful food product known as malted milk.

This is a strong statement and must be qualified by adding that the results will depend largely upon the quality of malted milk used. No trouble should be experienced in the selection of the best malted milk, however, in view of the recent action of the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, which awarded "The Grand Prize" (highest possible award) to that famous brand known the world over as "Borden's Malted Milk in the Square Package."

Do not allow yourself to become discouraged, therefore, until you have tried Borden's. By a special process of manufacture, the casein of the milk is partially digested in Borden's, making it much more easy to assimilate and digest it.

This perfect brand contains in absolutely correct proportions the elements that supply and rebuild wastes of tissue and nerve-force. Whether you are sick or well, weak or strong, Borden's Malted Milk will prove beneficial to you.

Don't experiment when the best costs no more than inferior kinds. Insist upon "Borden's The Malted Milk in the Square Package"—at all drug-gists.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY VISITS IMP-PORTANT WITNESS.

Details Arranged for Prosecution While Chief Counsel for Defense Takes Mysterious Trip to Bay City. Trial in Same Courtroom as the McNamara.

Slipping quietly into a covered automobile yesterday, Dist. Atty. Woolwine sped away into the country and after a run of several miles came to the stopping place of Orrie E. McNamara, who will be an important witness in the Schmidt and Kaplan trial, which will begin next Monday before Judge Willis on the eighth floor of the Hall of Records in the same room in which the McNamara were tried.

Dist. Atty. Woolwine spent nearly a half day with McNamara, going over the evidence, and returning to his office, submerged himself in the details of the case. The chief counsel for the defense, Charles H. Fairall, is in San Francisco on a mysterious trip in connection with the case. He will return to Los Angeles later this week. The trial that begins next Monday is on the charge, as expressed in the indictment, that the defendants did "willfully, unlawfully, feloniously and with malice aforethought, kill and murder one Charles Hagerly, a human being."

There are nineteen other indictments, but the particular one is chosen because of the more complete identification of the body after the explosion which destroyed the original Times Building, October 1, 1914. The regular term jury venire numbers fifty-one men. If a jury is not secured out of this number, special venires will be drawn.

LARGE INCREASE OF THE VOTERS.

COUNTY REGISTRATION AHEAD OF THE LAST GENERAL ELECTION NOW.

Registrar of Voters McAleer estimated yesterday that the total registration of Los Angeles county will be a little more than 222,000. There are more than 221,000 names of registered voters now in his office, and numerous registration deputies throughout the county are yet to be heard from, meaning a large increase.

This registration is approximately divided 126,000 for the county and 96,000 for the city. The registration of the entire county the last general election was 212,000, which was more than one-quarter of the entire State registration.

The paper for the election ballots—not the sample ballots—is purchased by the various counties from the Secretary of State. At each general election a different color and water mark is used. This year the color will be a buff or cream color, and the water mark is two parallel lines running through the sides of each ballot. The paper for the sample ballots of Los Angeles county will weigh more than 10,000 pounds, and is due to arrive here today. The State has sent to Registrar McAleer pamphlets explaining the constitutional amendments and referendum measures. These will be mailed to voters with the sample ballots. The State law requires that the mailing of these pamphlets must be started within twenty-five days of the election, and must be finished within fifteen days of the election. The sample ballots can be mailed twenty-five days before the election, if desired, but the mailing must be started within ten days and finished within seven days before the election.

SEEK TAX DODGERS.

Federal Government Starts Department to Ferret Out Delinquents in This District—Several Delinquents Followed.

The Federal government, whose officials have reason to believe that there are many people in this district who are dodging payment of their taxes to the government, has arranged to establish a corps of detectives.

Yesterday, John A. McCabe, in charge of investigation in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Hawaiian Islands districts of the internal revenue department, opened headquarters in room No. 118 of the Federal Building. The job of McCabe and his assistants is to ferret out the tax dodgers. A number of delinquents have been discovered, and it is believed that there are more who have so far been able to sequester their proper returns under various recently-enacted tax laws of the country. Collector Carter, who was asked yesterday if it is true that there are a number of tax dodgers in the local internal revenue district, admitted that such is the case.

HALF CENTURY IN STATE.

Death Takes Los Angeles Woman Long a Resident of California, North and South.

After an illness of nearly nine years, most of which time she has been confined to her home, Mrs. Ellen Elliott of No. 1217 Normandie avenue, 82 years old, passed away yesterday morning. Her only child, Mrs. George W. Fedrel, was at her bedside when death came.

Mrs. Elliott came to California in 1840, and was married the same year in San Francisco. Her honeymoon trip was a ride behind a mule team to Virginia City, Nev. Twenty years ago she came to Los Angeles, and had lived here or in its vicinity ever since.

Mrs. Elliott was born in Ireland, and came to America when she was 7 years old, settling with her parents in Boston. Her husband died eighteen years ago. The funeral services will be conducted tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at St. Thomas Church, Pico street and Mariposa avenue.

FOREST FIRE UNDER CONTROL. Supervisor Charlton received information yesterday that a fire has started in what is known as Ontario Peak, north of Upland, and he immediately sent Forester Fritz from Mt. Baldy with a posse of four men to combat the blaze. Later in the day he had information that the fire is under control. The supervisor said: "I wish all of our forest fires were on Ontario Peak; there is very little timber there and no underbrush—nothing to make a dangerous fire."

Safe investments by the score are daily advertised in the "Stocks and Bonds" and "Business Investments" columns in The Times' "liner" section.

Practical Test of "Ad" Knowledge.

Novel game for advertising men.

Harold Janes presenting the Janes Investment Company "Advertising Cup" to James G. Sprecher, right, winner in the Advertising Club's trade-slogan contest. The newspaper placard refers to The Times; the "J" to the Janes company.

TWENTY-SEVEN HITS OUT OF TWENTY-NINE.

SCORING twenty-seven hits out of a possible twenty-nine, James G. Sprecher was awarded the Janes Investment Company's "advertising cup" yesterday in the trade-slogan contest instituted by the Advertising Club of Los Angeles. Of the 190 contestants, thirty scored twenty or more hits.

Conceived by A. H. Wilkins, advertising manager of the Janes Investment Company, as a test of the efficacy of persistent repetition of a trade slogan in connection with systematic advertising, the contest provided much enthusiasm and also an affirmative answer on the proposition advanced by Mr. Wilkins.

Divested of telltale nouns, replicas of twenty-nine trade slogans used by Los Angeles firms were exhibited at the Advertising Club's luncheon at the Hotel Clark, and those present were asked to identify them on blanks provided for the purpose.

It is an interesting comment on advertising mediums that one of Mr. Sprecher's misses, and one that featured a hundred hits, was on the slogan that a certain 1-cent sheet carries in large type across the top of its want ad. columns, while practical by every contestant properly identified the "publishers of the largest daily and Sunday papers in the world."

From "See that white roof" to "The shortest shortening by a long way," the slogans to be identified were those commonly seen on billboards and more commonly in newspapers. Without exception, the highest scores were accredited to slogans of long and persistent use, though some of the "in-famous" of the tribe have by far the more fetching ring.

In addition to the contest, there was an interesting programme of speeches, with Mr. Wilkins presiding as chairman. The speakers were George B. Caldwell of Chicago, president of the Sperry & Hutchinson Company, who spoke on "Premium Advertising," and George E. Maxwell, managing director of the National Reclamation Association, who talked on "The Patriotism of Peace."

"The contest concerns of this country have no war with the newspapers," said Mr. Caldwell. "We recognize that 33 per cent. of the advertising of the country is done through the medium of newspapers."

While these approximate figures are for the entire country, the Sixth District will show a proportionate reduction, it is said.

session of the court be all day or five minutes.

The list is as follows: Judge Trippett's court—Crier, Ralph J. Dominguez; bailiffs, J. W. Bell and Joseph Dockweiler.

Judge Bledsoe's court—Crier, E. McCarthy; bailiffs, J. A. King and Alfred Moore.

Mr. Dominguez was appointed by Judge Trippett, and Mr. McCarthy by Judge Bledsoe, the bailiffs being named by United States Marshal Walton to succeed Republicans named by Marshal Leo Youngworth.

Mr. Dominguez is the oldest employee in point of service in the Federal Building, having been an official of the court ever since its establishment twenty-eight years ago. All of the others are new men, beginning with the appointments of Judge Bledsoe, who organized his court along Democratic lines as soon as he took office.

The deputies under Marshal Walton are paid by the month and are kept busy serving papers, looking after people who are wanted by the law, conveying prisoners to San Quentin, Folsom and McNeil's Island and a score of other duties. It is not clear how the proposed new arrangement could be carried out here in the interest of economy as the officers say it would be necessary to employ additional men either to do the work of the present deputies or to act as bailiffs and criers.

The economy may be on the same line as that employed on the elevator operators, janitors and char-women employed in the Federal Building, who were compelled last June to lay off eight days when the appropriations made by a Democratic Congress for the maintenance of public buildings might not be exhausted before the beginning of the new fiscal year in July, 1915.

ALLIGES ASSAULT. An action was brought in the Federal Court yesterday by Effie R. McClung against the Pullman Company for $25,000 damages for an alleged violent personal assault committed upon her by a porter on the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad near Salt Lake, July 31, 1915, en route from Chicago to Los Angeles.

FRATERNITY BANQUET. A meeting and banquet of the Auxiliary Delta Sigma Delta. Fraternity was held at the Hotel Clark last night. About thirty members were present and heard a programme of reminiscences of the Panama-Pacific Dental Congress in San Francisco. Dr. W. D. Moore presided.

NATION MORE TEMPERATE. Uncle Sam Using Less Boose and Cigars, and Congress Must Find Other Revenue Source.

Collector Carter has figured out that owing to decrease in the use of intoxicating liquors and cigars throughout the country, it will be necessary for Congress to devise some means to make good a shortage in the national revenues.

He estimates that there is a falling off of $15,500,000 in the nation's internal revenue on distilled spirits as compared with last year; a reduction of $6,500,000 in the revenue from cigars and $2,500,000 in revenue collected on cigars. He figures that the men of the United States have smoked 13,000,000 less high-grade cigars than they consumed last year.

While these approximate figures are for the entire country, the Sixth District will show a proportionate reduction, it is said.

TWO KILLED IN A FALL

Little Girl Victim; Her Mother Unconscious from Father Finds Horror in May Face Slaying Charge

TRAGEDY having its start in a family quarrel several days ago, early last night brought two members of the family to their death and placed the third in the Receiving Hospital. If she recovers she will probably face a charge of having slain her little child.

Walking into his home at No. 10 East Sixty-second street about 1 o'clock last night, B. N. Mosley, a motorman employed by the Los Angeles Railway, discovered his 8-year-old daughter, Grace, slain, it is believed, by the hand of her mother. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Martha Barlow, 15 years of age, dead on the floor beside his child's bed, a suicide, and his wife, 25 years of age, strangled in her bed in a front room, suffering the effect of chloroform swallowed in an attempt to end her life.

Two notes found by the police in the home of Mrs. Barlow explained the tragedy. The first was addressed to Mr. Mosley and expressed the wish that he would be able to find a wife suited to him, and stating Mrs. Mosley could stand the strain of family trouble no longer. The second note was to an aunt, Mrs. Turman, living at No. 2114 La Salle avenue, and was drawn up in the form of a crude will disposing of Mrs. Mosley's personal belongings.

She was taken to the Receiving Hospital after having been treated by Dr. E. F. Woodward of No. 1463 South Hoover street, who was called in by Mr. Mosley. Mrs. Mosley will live, according to Dr. Wiley, who worked over the case, but her condition for several hours up to a late hour last night was unable to make any statement.

TELLS OF QUARREL

The tragedy was told to the police by Mr. Mosley after his wife had been taken away to the hospital. With tears in his eyes, the stricken man declared to Detectives Hamilton and Cate of University Station that for about a week he and his mother-in-law have been quarreling. "My wife declared Mr. Mosley, sided with her mother and declared Mrs. Barlow was in the right."

"The matter," said Mr. Mosley, "had blown over, and I never thought of it again. Last night my little girl came all the way from her home and brought me my lunch at the car barn. She was very happy and went away singing."

"When I got off work a little before 10 o'clock I went right home and arrived there just about 10 o'clock. When I pushed open the door I saw the wife on her bed, unconscious. I saw in the back room I discovered the body of my little girl, who left me."

TAXPAYERS MUST UP THIRTY

ALL PLANS for joining the county in the special election October 26 by placing the five bond propositions, the two-platoon fire ordinance repeal and the Whiffen water rate initiative ordinances on the ballot were abandoned by the Council yesterday afternoon when the Council and the City Attorney discovered, as announced exclusively by The Times, that the consolidation could not be effected.

This means that if the taxpayers of Los Angeles have an opportunity to vote on the bond questions it must be at a special election called by the Council for the purpose and if an other questions on initiative petitions, now being checked by the City Clerk, will be added. The charter provision may also be placed on the ballot. It is not at all certain that the Council will decide to call a special election which will cost the taxpayers approximately $20,000, but several members of the Council indicated last night that they will favor it.

The City Attorney were charged yesterday afternoon legal obstacles would prevent any city question going on the ballot for the coming election. The last two months have been discussed and connected with them "supposed" could be on the ballot at the special election. Nobody ordered, asked for, or, apparently, tried.

DID HE SHOOT DOWN GROCER?

SUSPECT IN THE FLORENCE OUTRAGE ARRESTED ON THE STREET.

Suspected of being one of the two men who held up and shot Nathan Florence, Louis Abonima was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff for the process for identification today in the hospital where the latter lingered in a life threatening condition.

A check charge brought by Florence left a reform school where he had been placed for a number of years. When an agitation man registered at a rooming-house at No. 425 East Main street early yesterday morning, immediately proceeded to his appearance, suspicion was aroused. Information which reached Sheriff Sepulveda led him to the man to be Abonima. The man's appearance, suspicion was aroused. TWO KILLED BY POISON IN A FAMILY TRAGEDY.

TRAGEDY having its start from a family quarrel several days ago, early last night brought two members of the family to their death and placed the third in the receiving hospital. If she recovers she will probably face a charge of having slain her little child.

Walking into his home at No. 507 West Sixty-second street about 10 o'clock last night, B. N. Mosley, a salesman employed by the Los Angeles Railway, discovered his 8-year-old daughter, Grace, slain, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Martha Barlow, his mother-in-law, dead on the floor because his child's bed, and his wife, who was 25 years of age, groaning on the bed in a front room, suffering the effects of chloroform swallowed in an attempt to end her life.

Two notes found by the frantic husband on his wife's dresser explain the tragedy. The first was addressed to Dr. Mosley and expressed the hope that he would be able to find a wife better suited to him, and stating Mrs. Barlow could stand the strain of such trouble no longer. The second was to an aunt, Mrs. Turman, living at No. 2114 La Salle avenue, and was a week long of a crude, vulgar and obscene letter.

Police officers called to the house found Mrs. Mosley, who was called in by her husband, Mrs. Mosley will live, according to Dr. Mosley, who worked on the unconscious woman for some time. Up to a late hour last night she was unable to make any statement.

TELLS OF QUARREL.

The tragedy was told the police by Dr. Mosley after his wife had been taken away to the hospital. With tears in his eyes, the stricken man demanded of Detectives Hamilton and Van of University Station that for one week he and his mother-in-law had been quarreling. "My wife hated Mrs. Mosley, sided with her mother and declared Mrs. Barlow was the matter," said Mr. Mosley, "but I never thought of it as a murder case until last night. Last night my little girl came all the way from our home and brought me a letter from her mother. She was very happy and went away when I got out of work a little before 10 o'clock. I went right home and around there just about 10 o'clock. The letter was open and I saw the words on her bed, unconscious. Then in the back room I discovered the body of my little girl, who left me

Willis will not be guided in his ruling by the opinion of the Appellate Court which came to his attention yesterday.

This opinion, written by Justice Shaw, and concurred in by Justice James and Presiding Justice Conroy, holds, in effect, that the possession of intoxicating liquor by any person cannot be made a ground for legal prosecution.

It sets aside the city ordinance in every incorporated city in California and opens the way for liquor dealers to ship to such territory all the liquor they have orders for, although it does not give the consignee the right to sell or dispose of the liquor to others.

KNOCKOUT DECISION.

The Appellate Court decision is the result of a petition for writ of habeas corpus in the case of Juan Luera, who was fined $175 or given seventy-five days in jail for having liquor in his possession.

The opinion of Judge Shaw says, in part:

"The question involved is whether or not the provision of the ordinance defining the mere possession of liquor, malt and alcoholic beverages, constitutes a misdemeanor, is a valid exercise of the police power vested in cities by article XI, section 11, of the Constitution of the State.

"That a city may in the exercise of such power take all proper steps to suppress and prevent the sale or distribution of such liquors to others, admitting of no question. The provision in question, however, makes no reference to possession of such liquors with the intent and for the purpose of selling or distributing the same to others, nor is it alleged that his possession was for his own use as a beverage. Indeed, it is better this way. I have taken no one into my confidence. I have been happier in the cottage than ever before; just can't stand to go through this."

"I love you, but you forget it. Get someone that fills the bill."

"Your OWNERSHIP that comes to stay."

THEORY OF DEATHS.

Police detectives declared Mrs. Barlow placed some gauze on the floor near the child's bed, and after soaking it in chloroform, pressed her own face into it and remained there until she died. The child had been forced to swallow chloroform and the mother had soaked a rag with the drug. Mrs. Mosley, according to the police, killed the child before she and her mother took any of the drug.

Mr. Mosley declares he is at a loss to account for the woman's acts.

"The detectives were unable up to a late hour last night to question Mrs. Mosley, but stated that if she recovers the case will be carefully investigated and that she will probably be held on a charge of murder, as her daughter was apparently too young to have taken her own life."

The bodies were removed, following the investigation, from the cottage on Sixty-second street to the Moneta open Undertaking Company rooms at No. 4254 Moneta avenue. Mrs. Mosley will be taken to a private hospital some time today.

TAXPAYERS MUST PUT UP THIRTY THOUSAND.

ALL PLANS for joining the county in the special election October 26 by placing the five bond propositions, the two-platoon fire ordinance repeal and the Whiffen water initiative ordinances on the ballot, were abandoned by the Council yesterday afternoon when the Council was informed by the City Attorney that the consolidation could not be effected.

It means that if the taxpayers of Los Angeles have an opportunity to vote on the bond questions it must be on a special election called by the Council for the purpose, and if an initiative election is called it is likely that the questions on initiative petitions, checked by the City Clerk, will be decided on a special election which will cost the taxpayers approximately $20,000, but several members of the Council indicated last night that they will favor it.

Members of the Council and the Attorney were chagrined yesterday when they read in The Times that the Consolidated Legal Association would bring any city question going on the ballot for the coming election. The propositions had been discussed last two months and everybody connected with them "supposed" they could go on the ballots on a special election. Nobody, of course, asked for or, apparently, tried to ascertain whether it could be done.

During the last few days, some of the questions arose, but it was not until the afternoon yesterday that the discovery was made officially.

Councilmen Conwell and Brain were named as a special committee of election, and their report, after calling upon the county counsel, with City Attorney Stephens and Assistant City Attorney Robertson was simply to recommend that the plan to consolidate the elections be abandoned. They left City Attorney Stephens to do the explaining, which he did in a long letter reviewing the situation as outlined in The Times yesterday. He called attention to the State law which provides that only those who have registered thirty days before an election may vote, while the term provided by the city charter is twenty-five days. Therefore, City Attorney Stephens said, those who register between the twenty-fifth and thirtieth day before election can vote on the city bond questions only. This would make separate ballots necessary and the county officials objected on the ground that confusion and errors would jeopardize the validity of the county bond election.

The bond questions, which will be held up until the next regular election unless a special election is called by the Council, include the civic center and City Hall project; provision for new fire engine sites and houses and equipment, a new fire and police alarm and telegraph system, sewage disposal plant at Hyatt and Los Angeles Harbor and bonds to cover payments due on the Normal Hill and Temple Block properties.

DIES ON HONEYMOON.

Los Angeles Man Succumbs to Surgical Operation While on a Visit in Virginia.

While in Richmond, Va., on a delayed honeymoon tour with his second wife, formerly Mrs. Rosa Kennedy, a Virginian, whom he married in Tucson, Ariz., seven years ago, John Shier, 40 years old, of No. 1640 Leimoyne street, Los Angeles, was stricken ill recently, was removed to a hospital, underwent surgical operation last Wednesday, and died early yesterday morning.

Accompanied by his widow the body will be taken to his former home at Owosso, Mich., where his aged parents reside, as does his first wife, who was Julia Huber, of Lansing, Mich. Mr. Shier leaves two children, twins, Madeline and Mathew, 15 years old, who are now in Los Angeles with his second wife's two children by her first marriage—Emma J. and Samuel J. Kennedy.

Mr. Shier was apparently in good health when he arrived in Richmond, though he had undergone three operations in this city for the same trouble. He and his wife were visiting her brother, John T. Wright. They had deferred their honeymoon until they could find the opportunity to go to Virginia.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.
(At Home.) The demand for investments of a high grade is increasing steadily, as evinced by the quick manner in which New York City bonds were taken to the amount of $45,000,000. Speculation tended more to the old-time issues, dominant for months, but which showed general strength. The war stocks were all active, though some of them did not hold their advance. Merchants of the Pacific Coast are interesting themselves in an expedition to be held at Buenos Aires early next year at which their wares will be generously displayed.
(For details, see financial pages.)

JUST LIKE THEM.

At Fullerton to put the trustees of their city in jail is entirely consistent with unimpaired methods. They are not merely satisfied to run away with themselves. They must run over other people.

GENUINE DIPLOMACY.

Yuan Shi Kai has wisely decided to let the people elect him Emperor instead of appointing himself to that office. Then he can sit back comfortably and submit to the will of the people. It is another enlightened instance of letting the people rule.

PLAIN FACTS.

In a good many cases in this war the wrong terms are used. For instance, we are informed by dispatches that the Germans charge the English with using gas bombs. This is not a charge, but a statement. It is not accusation, but recognition.

HARD TO UTILIZE.

The reason a poet is so hopeless is that the minute that you make him practical he is utterly impractical to his own purposes. The poet is not delighted to himself or anybody else if you make him anything different. Ergo the poet is only useful when not put to sordid uses.

IN NO DANGER.

When the Anglo-French loan commissioners started for the West they were under a heavy guard of detectives. We don't see why. They haven't the money yet. Perhaps they were afraid the Chicago meat packers would capture them and hold them until all American cargoes held by the British as prizes shall be released.

NO NEWSPAPERS FOR SOLDIERS.

British soldiers are allowed to receive through the mails free of postage books that were published before the outbreak of the war; but recent publications, daily newspapers and weekly illustrated newspapers are to be carefully kept from them. Tommy Atkins is not to know anything that has happened since July, 1914. It is feared that he might be dissatisfied if he should learn that the income tax in Great Britain is to be increased 40 per cent. and is to be extended so that the wages of day laborers will be taxed; that postage and telegraph rates are to be greater and that duties on tea, coffee, sugar, beer, tobacco and other necessities of life are to be increased.
The motto that England will inscribe upon her banners is "Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise."

SPREADING THE GOSPEL.

Thomas Dixon, who has come to Los Angeles to produce an immense film of his latest great novel, is a man to whom the world owes much. When he left the active ministry to become a novelist, he merely widened his congregation and broadened his text. His novel on "The One Woman" struck at the greatest social sickness of the age, namely the lightness with which spoiled persons turn from their life companions to satisfy some unnatural whim. Readers of "The Times" already know the power of Dr. Dixon's great story, "The Fall of a Nation." It is that this timely note of warning may be put before every thinking person in America that Dr. Dixon now begins to convert his splendid story into a vast photoplay. Making a picture at first hand is new work for the brilliant author, but he is cheerfully accustomed to indorsing checks received as his royalties from "The Glensman." One thing is certain, he has come to the right place for the making of his picture.

DIPLOMATIC LOGIC.

German agents in her last note that the disadvantages that will accrue to her from complying with the obligations of international law, and the Declaration of London, will be far greater than any disadvantage that will result to the United States from a violation of them. She can pay the United States for any property damage sustained, while the United States cannot or at least will not remunerate Germany for foregoing an opportunity to send to the bottom of the sea an American ship loaded with conditional contraband—such as cotton.
"Nevertheless," the German government, in order to furnish to the American government evidence of its conciliatory attitude, has issued orders to the German naval forces not to destroy American merchantmen which have loaded conditional contraband, even when the conditions of international law are present, but to permit them to continue their voyage unhindered if it is not possible to take them into port.

DRESS UP—IF YOU CAN AFFORD IT.

It is a time for a combination of good sense and economy in dress as well as in other things. It is a time to look at every dollar twice before parting with it.

It is a good idea to dress well—if the family income is not embarrassed thereby. The Times is entirely in sympathy with this sartorial campaign so long as it just means that we are to dress as well as we can comfortably afford to. For there is nothing quite so pitiable, so incongruous, as a hungry fashion plate. And to dress on credit, at the ultimate expense of some unfortunate creditor, is contemptible.

But presuming that your income justifies it, we repeat it is a good thing to dress well. Everyone recognizes the psychology of clothes. To be well and correctly garbed is to raise one's self-respect, to enhance one's self-confidence—considerable assets. And to be well dressed is to give pleasure to our friends and our family, our district, our city. It is a mark of general well being, and goes a long way to make for pleasant intercourse and good will.

Very few of us are indifferent to clothes. Very few of us do not care what we appear to the world. And good, becoming clothing, moderately fashionable, can make all the difference to our frame of mind. Many a doctor has recommended a distraught patient to dress up in her most becoming clothes and go a-calling. In numerous cases of inexplicable depression it works like a tonic. One of the surest signs of low vitality in a woman is when she begins neglecting her appearance. That means loss of ambition, loss of self-respect.

And men are no less impressionable to sartorial influence. Nothing makes a man feel quite so ill at ease as the wrong clothes at a social function. And shabby clothes make us feel shabby, an uncomfortable sense that our stock is below par. If the spruce-up campaign is to jog the well-to-do into a proper sense of their duty to their families and the city, well and good. But any campaign that encourages unjustifiable expenditure on clothes to the detriment of the family income, the larger and the regular monthly bills, and is calculated to produce a tight pinch in the domestic exchequer, is undesirable. Clothes are all very well in their place. But it is far better to overhaul and remodel, mend and press such wardrobe as we have and cheerfully make the best of it, than decimate our backs at the expense of our peace of mind.

There is precious little satisfaction to be got out of making a sartorial splurge in public and paying for it in private pangs and privations. And it never deceives anybody for long. Indeed, our neighbors generally know more about us than we approach and are quick to condemn us for this sort of specious front. There is far greater satisfaction to be gained out of ingenuously making a dollar do the work of five, and there is nothing but admiration for the family who have learned the art of doing it gracefully. It is genuine art and one that brings happy pride in its train.

Dress as well as you can afford to. That is a safe creed. A well-dressed person and a well-dressed community must needs make an entirely desirable impression of self-respect and well-being, which is all to the good. But where the fortune is modest, let thought and discrimination and a few neat stitches take the place of the lacking dollars. There will be no heartaches, no repining, no neighborly criticism, no sarcastic innuendo.

OUR RUINOUS NAVIGATION LAWS.

Elwyn G. Preston, chairman of the Committee on Merchant Marine of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, calls attention to the fact that under our navigation laws the charges in an American harbor on an American ship are greater than on a foreign ship. This discrimination he would remove by an amendment of the navigation laws. He says that the recent legislation permitting transference to the American flag of foreign-built ships has not increased and will not increase the shipping of this country, because of the disadvantages inflicted by the shipping law.

Mr. Preston said that one provision of that law added to the number of men of high wages on steamers. In the case of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company the additional cost involved would amount to $600,000 a year, and as a consequence, the company sold its ships, they have disappeared from the Orient trade and the ships of a Japanese line, subsidized by the Japanese government, will take their place.

Nor will these cheaply-conducted and heavily-subsidized Japanese ships be limited to the Orient trade. They cannot under our shipping laws run between American ports, but they can run between American and foreign ports. Besides conducting all the commerce between Japan, China and the United States, they can carry sugar and pineapples from Honolulu or Manila through the Panama Canal to any port in Europe; they can carry wheat and lumber from Puget Sound or Portland to Liverpool; they can run a line of steamers between Los Angeles and any Central American, South American or West Indian port, and they can run vessels between Vancouver or other Canadian port on this coast and San Francisco or Los Angeles, and between Montreal or Halifax on the Atlantic coast and Boston or New York. A Japanese sailor is as competent as an American sailor, and he is content with less than half the wages of the American sailor and with food costing less than half that of the American sailor. Andrew Furuseth and Samuel Gompers did not help the American sailor when they helped to force the shipping bill through Congress.

Mr. Preston asserts that the only way to prevent the utter disappearance of the American merchant marine is by some system of subsidy. He said in his address to the Boston Chamber of Commerce, that "the terrors of the word subsidy have largely disappeared, that what was asked is that a subsidy be not adopted as a lump sum per ton or per mile in recognition of certain structural requirements, but that the subsidies shall equalize the cost of construction, whatever that may be, and today there is no difference between the cost of construction and its cost abroad."
"We also ask," said he, "that the government shall undertake to equalize the cost of operation. That is the application of the protection principle to shipping. It is claimed that capital will not seek investment in shipping. Therefore, we propose that the government shall loan on shipping, but shall not own or operate. A sum of $44,000,000 might be utilized for that purpose, the loan to be 50 per cent. of their value on ships constructed according to certain naval regulations for use in time of war, such as would not destroy their value as carriers. That would give the shipowner 50 per cent. of his capital without any difficulty. A proposal to do this through a shipping board is to be presented to Congress at its next session.

The Times is not entirely clear that a Congressional subsidy would be the only or even the best plan of giving to our merchant ships a first place in the maritime commerce of the world, but it is very sure that a repeal of the language clause and other restrictions in the shipping law would help restore our flag to the Pacific Ocean and work no disadvantage to the American seaman.

ON THE NEWS.

From the Neuste Nachrichten of Munich we call this enlightening paragraph:

"The coming fashions for women, therefore, must be modest. They must not injure in ever so remote a degree the organs of the body. Lines must depart from the accepted canons of grace, if these injure the body or endanger the highest aspirations of women."

This is another bit of evidence of German "thoroughness," for some such item in editorial form has appeared in the majority of the German newspapers.

And the international male will watch the result with interest. Can it be done? And—what are the highest aspirations of women? In our search for knowledge we have gained many conflicting answers. "Universal peace," says Jane Addams. "Universal suffrage for women," says Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont. "Economic independence," says Ellen Key. "The single standard of morality," says Christabel Pankhurst. "A nice, generous, rich husband," murmurs Maudie.

Now we ask you, as man to man, can such aspirations be best forwarded by departing from the accepted canons of grace in dress? By a faithful fidelity to modesty? Should not that last line have read "or endanger the highest aspirations of man?" That would be more logical if equally impractical of attainment.

If they would dress modestly and sensibly, it would be infinitely safer for man. We should know where we were. At present women seem to dress exclusively for their own higher aspirations, and no reforms along that line are needed. They have a certain justifiable impression that, given a successfully fashionable rig-out, they can attain pretty well anything they want. If it is a man they want they can get him best by a faithful but discriminating devotion to fashion, carefully adjusted to throw up their charms and conceal their defects.

If that paragraph means exactly what it says, it is superfluous. If it means something else—well, they'll have to work it with far more diplomacy than that. And diplomacy is not Germany's strong point.

MAKING US THINK.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

This urgent and growing conspiracy to make us think, it is heavy with gloom. Nearly all the good people who feel it their duty to teach the masses to think seem to mean, judging from their tragic books, their fearful realism, their gruesome plays, their weird pictures, their strenuous, grim sculpture, their terrific music, that it will be good for us to appreciate the full unpleasantness of life.

A most depressing crowd, these thought teachers. If one is happy, light-hearted, optimistic, then it is obvious one does not think. How dare we be sippant and gay when there is so much tragedy in the world? Four profound thinkers would never so demean himself. To him it is evidence of shallowness and inconsequence. He gazes upon us with contempt and sits him down to write the most hideously "realistic" book he can get a publisher to launch.

And the thought propagandists are on an alarming increase. The war has loosed the Russian flood, and our Russian writer specialized in grim horror and brutal truth. He makes a point of banishing our last suffering bit of cheerful optimism, he commands us to think, to think deeply on the terrors of life, on the unrelenting the perversity, the sordid, the misery, to think hard and then—well, if you have thought to good purpose along these lines one's only logical option is to commit suicide.

After a dose of the thought missionaries, one feels that it is really rather paltry to look on the bright side of things. As for sweet faith and buoyant hope, they really seem a little indecent. One blushes to find oneself persistently cheerful. And the average woman must certainly feel an ignorant fool if she catches herself enjoying any man with noble qualities, permitting herself any ridiculous dreams of pure love and marital fidelity. The thought missionaries would have us think for ourselves and realize, on their realistic showing, that there "isn't no such thing" as Aristobach's "Sistine," for instance, about which the literary critics wax so profoundly approving. It is a ghastly book without a ray of hope. The only two decent men in it (men, by the way, who were given to overmuch thinking), commit suicide in despair. And a few of the indecent men commit suicide, too, likewise in despair, for neither virtue nor vice reaps any sort of reward in this most unpleasant book. And the two sweet heroines, upon whom the author lavishes admiration, are both seduced with their own consent, by the most objectionable of the male characters. They are permitted to regret it for the rest of their miserable lives, but are given to understand that they would have had just as much regret otherwise. Jolly, isn't it?

Then there is Andreweff. I have just absorbed three of his plays. "The Man" is a lovely symbolical and goes to prove that man is born in pain, lives in futility, dies in misery, prays ardently to an indifferent Deity, reaps success only to find it ashes, breeds children only to have them die young or go to the bad. He is permitted but one solace, a good and loyal wife. And that leaves us with the cynical reflection that he was rather lucky in that respect as it doesn't necessarily enrich one!

"The Sabine Women" our friend shows a rich, proud, courteous gentleman apparently kindly and beloved, blessed with a charming wife whom he adores. And then he shows us that both he and his wife are hypocrites clean through to the core. The man has a raving lunatic feared at by his own sons.

"The Sabine Women" is written in humorous vein and one breathes comfort in anticipation of a cheerful point of view. But that, too, is designed to make us think. For he re-reads Roman history and insists that the Sabine women rather than being abducted and raped, that they immeasurably preferred the physically superb, rather smelly Roman soldier and were sick to death of their peaceful, thinking, law-abiding husbands. But he shows them as brilliant hypocrites, ready opportunists, infinitely versed in every feminine deceit.

But we have plenty of thought missionaries of this kind among the English-speaking writers. Bernard Shaw is not much better. With artful cunning he chooses the humorous vein, too, but is all designed to make us think—unpleasantly. He loves to prove our previous convictions all wrong and very foolish, to uproot our old faith and ideals, and then tear at us for a lot of silly foibles. In short, the sort of thinking demanded of the playgoer is of the utter imbecility, wickedness, futility, and rottenness.

Take what we are pleased to call the "great" pictures. All gloom. Or the "great" music, tragedy emotion. It must be something in the climate. For one observes that most of the sordid tragedy comes out of the cold, hard, cruel North Russia, Scandinavia, and rarely below the latitude of England and Germany. This is very marked in the Fine Arts Building at the San Francisco Fair where the Swedish room is followed by the Portuguese. The Swedish pictures are all strenuous, cold, rugged. The landscapes obviously offer battle to man, and the portraits, old and young, have deep struggle lined in their faces, and a suspicion of it. It is like a sudden beam of sunlight to pass into the Portuguese room, where the landscapes smile affectionately, where the children look bundles of joyous mischief, where even a very old lady has a merry twinkle in her eye. On has an awful suspicion that the Portuguese don't think.

The war has aided the grim thought propagandists, of course. We are in for an awful flood of unpleasant literature now. It all goes so far to prove their miserable philosophy. It is an epidemic. The H. G. Wellses, and Arnold Bennetts and the Kiplings have got it badly. They will no longer coax us to think via the humorous channel, they will lay their "realism" on thick and grim and hard and often—and we shall have to get our frivolity on the sly.

And we shall remember that "The Lord made the hearts of children to be simple, otherwise they would die of grief."

(Baltimore American.) Mr. Bryan in denying rumors that he again arrives to office said he entertains no political expectations whatever. This shows on his part a clearer understanding of the public mind than had been thought possible.

CAFE PROPRIETOR HELD AS "FENCE."

ARREST IN HANDIT ROUND-UP FOLLOWS CONFESSION.

Picturesque Figure Thought Well Known in Underworld Circles. Files of Stolen Auto Parts Forwarded by Police Point to Organized Traffic with Outlaw Band.

J. King, a cafe owner of Lankershim, reputed to be worth more than $100,000, was arrested yesterday on a charge of receiving stolen property, and is believed by the police to be the most important "fence" ever caught in the city. His hands were reported to have passed during the last six months, and his dealings in stolen property, the police charge, total many thousands of dollars monthly.

Mounds of stolen auto parts are stored on King's property. Detective Wedge reported yesterday. These will be recovered by the police.

King was in possession of a confession of Cecil Murray, one of the old-station bandits, who said the four desperadoes of which he was one, had stolen many machines, and had sold them to King. He said King was considered the biggest "fence" in this part of the state, and known among thieves throughout the nation. King is a quiet, small, and says little. He has been in trouble with the police often, and his reputation as a fence has entered the police records in no small measure.

The prisoner is credited with being the first person to systematize the business of receiving stolen goods, and is reputed to have made a fortune through the traffic. These are assertions made by the police. For several months he has run a small cafe in Lankershim, living there with his wife. He denies that he has ever received stolen goods, but he will admit that he has never purchased a stolen auto. He knew to have been stolen. The confession of Murray and his confession of King's business, however, and Gonsell the police believe, will prove otherwise.

TAILORS PLAN SPECIAL SHOW.

LIVING MODELS TO EXHIBIT LATEST STYLES IN HOTEL BALLROOM.

A special exhibit of autumn and winter styles for 1915-1916 tailors made men and women is to be held next Tuesday afternoon and evening at the Hotel Alexandria. The big ballroom there has been engaged and will be elaborately decorated with plants and palms for the affair.

A strict impartiality is promised by the members of the local tailors' exchange, managing the exhibit, and in the allotment of space the same will be given to all styles.

BALLROOM.

A special exhibit of autumn and winter styles for 1915-1916 tailors men and women is to be held Tuesday afternoon and evening at the Hotel Alexandria. The big ballroom has been engaged and will be elaborately decorated with potted plants and palms for the affair. A large number of models will be arranged in the room, and a miniature stage will be in position for the display of the models who will exhibit the latest styles. This grouping will afford many possibilities, and much interest attaches to it.

This style exhibit is announced in the exhibition as the first semi-annual affair, and is a practically definitive by the men who are interested in the exhibit shall be held regular intervals hereafter, and with the exhibition, the exhibit future displays will be more brilliant and interesting.

members of the local tailors' association, managing the exhibit, and in the management of space the same spirit of co-operation will prevail.

THE SCHOOL CHANGES.
Several petitions for Redistricting will be heard by County Superintendent, Next Tuesday.

Petitions for several changes in the boundaries of school districts have been filed with County Superintendent of Schools Kappel and will be heard Monday. One of these petitions asks that a portion of the Felton district be transferred to the Sausalito district.

The petition asks that a portion of the San Francisco school district be made a part of the Sausalito district, as the distance is sixteen miles in length and the schoolhouse is at the far end, requiring four hours for the children to reach the school.

The school patrons in a portion of the Felton district ask that they be placed in the Santa Gertrudes district, as the distance is much nearer.
Portions of the Rancho
Santa Gertrudes district ask to be set off from the Montebello district for the same reason.

MANY THOUSAND FOR A CHURCH.

MEMBER LEAVES A THIRD OF HIS LARGE ESTATE TO AID HUMANITY.

The will of Michael Sanders, No.
2623 Sichel street, was filed for probate yesterday by Attorney Taylor & Fogey. A keen business man, Mr.
Sanders was interested in religious work, and his will is in line with the precepts of his life. The estate, valued at $100,000, is placed in trust with W. F. Andrews of No. 745 Hartford street, and Gideon W. Riggs of No.
2815 Barbree street, elders of the Church of Christ, Altura and Sichel streets.

One-third is bequeathed to the Church of Christ for the benefit of sick and needy members, approximately $33,000 of the remaining is distributed to his wife, son, grandson, sister, brothers, nieces and a friend, and the residue is given to Mr. Andrews and Mr. Riggs, who are nominated executors. The widow, Malinda M. Sanders, is bequeathed $1000 and the son, Walter Sanders, $10,000. The will sets out that in 1933 a property division was made, husband, wife and son each being allotted one-third.

At the request of the County Civil Service Commission, the Board of Superintendents yesterday declared its policy in regard to vacations where county employees lose time from sickness.
The board decided that loss of time from sickness shall not mitigate against any employee receiving their regular vacation time with pay, and will so notify the commission.

THE BURNS DEMAND.
The demand of Detective Burns for the payment of the $10,000 reward for the arrest of Schmidt and Caplan was before the Board of Supervisors again yesterday. As only three members were present it was carried over until October 11, when a full board will act on the demand. Those present stated that they considered it a just demand.

COWBOYS LAND AUTO THIEVES.

LATTER STUCK IN SAND AND BRANDISHING A GUN
WHEN TAKEN.

Three film cowboys riding along the Calabazas road got peeved yesterday when two young motorists brandished a revolver and talked loudly of how they had the right to the road. One of the cowboys is a deputy sheriff, one of several hundred million, more or less, in the country.

The deputy-sheriff-cowboy-film actor flashed his badge and rode up to the motor car, which was unfortunately clogged in the sand. He twisted the gun out of the hand of the younger of the motorists and ordered the boys to drive into Los Angeles, and direct to the Central Police Station, to be arrested for carrying firearms.

When the boys were taken to the detective office they were identified as two who had stolen a motor car in San Francisco and had driven it here.
They gave their names as Ike Baum and Alex Digs.

They said they were on a vacation and had stolen the machine because it would be cheaper to drive a stolen car to San Diego than to pay railroad fares. So they will be returned to San Francisco to face prosecution.

The cowboys who made the arrest are Walter Strohm, Joe Knight and John McCallister.

NAVAL MILITIA TO ENTERTAIN.

PLAN FOR A MARINE RESERVE WILL BE EXPLAINED AT BIG SMOKER.

With the idea in view of interesting the young men of the city in the proposed organization of a reserve marine corps to be maintained as an auxiliary to the naval reserve, the Seventh Division, N.M.C., under personal command of Lieutenant-Commander A. H. Woodbine, will give a free smoker, entertainment and exhibition drill tomorrow evening in the Amory at Exposition Park. Everyone who is interested in the question of preparedness which is now stirring the nation is cordially invited.

An elaborate and interesting programme has been arranged which will be both entertaining and instructive.
Lieut. Merritt Hodson, U.S.N., inspector and instructor on the naval reserve torpedo boat destroyer Farragut at Los Angeles Harbor, will tell those present how necessary it is that a man be trained to take care of himself should the need ever arise. Capt.
Harding of the United States Marine Corps will also deliver an address.

Three vaudeville acts have been placed on the programme. These will be followed by an exhibition drill by the naval reserve. Those in charge of the affair hope to arouse sufficient enthusiasm at the meeting to assure Southern California of a marine reserve.

The Mayor, members of the City Council and Board of Supervisors will be the guests of the officers of the naval reserve on a special cruise of the Farragut Sunday afternoon. The naval militia will demonstrate to the city and county officials the progress it has made since the acquisition of the destroyer.

"Frank F. Oster advised C. H. Elmenwas offered for sale in parcels and then as a whole and that William F.

The property involved is the same

Col. Frank C. Woodford his $60,000 apartment-house in Boise City. Before abandoning efforts to secure title to the ranch, Col. Woodford brought suit to recover $41,500 from W. W.

acted as judge, critic and appraiser for Col. Woodford and declared the land to be worth $100,000.

Col. Woodford charged the defendants with pocketing certain sums realized from the sale of the orange crop and declared that investigation showed the ranch was not worth that much. At the present time there is a case pending against W. W. Verner.

Mr. Fighiera says Mr. Radis, as and at the end of the first year he de-

it was not made and he now is suing the man for $8500, which represents the sale of a season's crop.

Los Angeles High School's First American Football Team Will Play Today

Prodigal's Return.
BIG DAY FOR AMERICAN GAME.
L. A. High to Play 'Possum Freshies Today.

First Football Contest for it in Eight Years.
To Show Knowledge of Real Fundamentals.

Los Angeles High School will play its first American football game since 1908 this afternoon. It meets the U.S.C. freshmen at Bovard Field in a practice affair.

"We don't expect to set the world on fire," said Coach Featherstone, referring to the coming game. "I guess the U.S.C. freshmen will defeat us. We will only use three or four plays and will attempt nothing freakish or difficult. It will be simple, plain football—very simple and very plain. But before the game is over I think those in the bleachers will see that we understand the rudiments of the old game."

STIFF PROPOSITION.
For a school that is learning a game the Cliff-dwellers are going up against a stiff proposition this afternoon. The U.S.C. freshmen are seasoned to the game. Most of them have played brilliant football during four years in high school. Out at U.S.C. they say that the variety and freshman line-ups will read about the same with only one or two minor changes. If that is true, then the L. A. High team is meeting a university variety. Burkett, Fox, Marshall, Curry and Mallette have made enviable reputations for themselves already.

THOROUGH.
Coach Featherstone has done everything in his power to teach the Cliff-dwellers American football. He has worked the boys as long as three hours a night. He has lectured to them, drawn pictures for them, showed them personally how each position should be played, walked alongside of them when they ran through signals, and shouted and coached them on when they scrimmaged. Every night he has had them play a real game for at least thirty minutes. He has been very systematic and thorough.

During the two weeks of actual work he has selected a first team from the squad that looks the part. The line is of the tall, rangy, angular sort with plenty of beef to back it up. The backs are chunky, of the square type, built for line plunging and off-tackle bucks. The team will average 160 pounds.

TEAMWORK.
In the scrimmage nobody has shown up as a world-beater. But the boys have caught on to the hang of the old game. If not today, then before the season is over, L. A. High will have a team that moves as a unit.

There is good deal of sentiment connected with today's game. It marks the return to the fold of the High School that has produced more great prep teams and turned out more phenomenal football heroes than any other school in the West. It is a safe bet that many an old-timer and former star will be out at U.S.C. this afternoon to see old school back at the old game. Whether the High School wins or loses, it will be a pretty picture to their eyes.

POETS DO NOT GIVE OXY MUCH.
COACH WILSON THINKS POMONA AND WHITTIER AHEAD OF TIGERS.

WHITTIER. Sept. 23.—"Mogul" Shipke's return to Oxy does not concern the poet variety and coach, as the Quakers believe they have one of the strongest lines in the south and that it will take more than Shipke and perhaps several more of his toughest caliber to stop the Whittier plungers, this year. Wilson figures Pomona and U.S.C. will have stronger lines than the Tigers. He is of the opinion that he has a quartette of big boys who are individually the equal of the line men who showed well for Oxy last year.

Wilson has McBurney and Greer, both 200-pounders, who are all muscle and strong as oxen, upon whom he can rely for the tackle. Also he has Joe Selmon, who by the way must be reckoned with as he is showing a world of smarts, and M. Belmont, who last year went through a plucky season. Any of these men, Wilson figures, can handle Shipke or any other Oxy hunk, so it looks like the Poets are optimistic concerning their line work in the coming Oxy clash. Barnes, who last year opposed Shipke, is practicing and may again meet his rival.

HASLETT WILL HOLD SCRIMMAGE.
POLY COACH CHANGES MIND AND WILL SCRIMMAGE TOMORROW.

Coach Haslett of Polytechnic has evidently changed his mind about not having a scrimmage for two weeks. He announces the first scrimmage for tomorrow. The men have been carefully taken care of thus far and will receive their first hard knocks in tomorrow's fray.

SEWARD SIMONS TO GIVE UP JOB.
Seward Simons, president of Southern Pacific Branch of the A.A.U., will retire at the end of his present term of office, October 12. Simons has been in charge of the branch for two years and announces that he will not consider re-election.

ELLIOTT SAYS HE WILL BE OAK BOSS NEXT YEAR.

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 23.—Pacific Coast League directors down south are much "peevish" at the lack of attendance at the games in Portland this year. J. P. Cook, "Genial Jack," as the vice-president of the Oakland club is known hereabouts—said as much today when he arrived in the city with his ball club. "We're going to vote Portland out

"I don't know," replied Cook. "I'm in favor of ten teams if it will strengthen the league."
Harold Elliott, whose name used to be "Rowdy" Elliott, and who is now managing Cook's Oakland ball club, is just as good-natured as his boss, and to prove that he is a "bear" for punishment Elliott declared with vehemence that he expected to be retained as field general for 1916. "Yea, sir," he said. "I'll be here and give the franchise to Vallejo or Taft or Stappsville," said the genial magnate, jokingly. "Teams coming up here are under a weekly expense of at least $2500, including salaries, car fare, berths, hotels and overhead, and about the best they get from one week here is $1000 to $1500. I don't suppose San Francisco got $700 here last week, when your Sunday games were cancelled by the rain."

"Are you in favor of admitting Seattle and Spokane into the league, providing they can get loose from the Northwestern League?" was asked.

Gets Excited.
M'CREDIE SIGNS EVERY YOUNGSTER IN SIGHT.
[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 23.—That the Portland management is stretching out its dragnet in all directions in order to collar a number of promising youngsters is becoming more evident every day. Today "Ike" Wolfier of the Montana State League was told to be out at the ball park in uniform, and if he showed up in his recommendations he will be taken with the team on again next year as manager of the Oaks, and we'll have a first-division club, too. You'll note that we have made many changes since we were here last. If the club had been in third place when I took hold it would have been there now."

Elliott was immensely pleased because the Chicago Cubs failed to exercise their option on Jimmy Johnston. "It's pretty hard to pick up a ball player like Jimmy in the spring," explained Harold.

ARREST ALLEGED "FENCE" FOR STOLEN AUTOMOBILES.

Exposing the activities of automobile thieves in Southern California and the methods of operation of the gangs of thieves being trapped here, the theft bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California, in co-operation with the police department, yesterday took into custody G. J. King of No. 1143 South Grand avenue, alleged to be a "fence" for stolen automobiles.
Yesterday the car taken from J. M. Young was identified in the jitney service on First street, although its numbers had been changed. The driver of the car stated that he had purchased it from King, and the owner secured the warrant for his arrest.

RAILROADS ARE FOR SPEEDWAY.
PROMISE TO GET BEHIND AUTO RACING AND BOOST GAME.
An inspection trip to the site of the proposed speedway, near Bell, four miles east of the city, was made by officials of the Salt Lake Railroad in company with representatives of the Los Angeles Speedway Association yesterday. The railroad men were very enthusiastic over the speedway idea, and before leaving the site were picturing in their minds the number of trains that would be required to accommodate the crowd.

MAYOR ACCEPTS THE INVITATION.
NEIGHBORS PERSUADES HIM TO KICK OFF FIRST BALL.
In response to the invitation of Sidney Neighbors, Mayor Sebastian will kick off the first ball in the L.A. A.C.U.C. game next Saturday afternoon. Neighbors was so persuasive that not only the Mayor but the entire City Council promised to show up at the game.

PHIL BROCKLESBY SAYS THAT FISHING IS ABOVE PAR AT HERMOSA AND CLIFTON-BY-SEA. Richard Clark and James McSherry of the Hammond Lumber Company caught eight salmon and seven large halibut at Hermosa yesterday afternoon.

The Vernon Gun Club will hold one of its shoots next Sunday. The prizes in each event will be handsome fobs. These regular affairs of the Vernon club are proving great successes.

J. T. Bate caught a 151-pound swordfish off Clemente recently. According to Bates, it is quite some little job to haul in a swordfish. The monster pulled off forty-one good-sized jumps before he felt the snafu hook.

C. A. Bowman and H. R. Parker are in the city again after some time spent at Santa Ynez. They say that the sport is good there.

There will be a fifty bird handicap shoot at the Los Angeles Gun Club grounds next Sunday. The contest

Hi Jasper, errant pitcher of the Angels, may be traded to the St. Louis Cardinals. President Powers says that he is trying to put through a deal of this kind which will bring three players to the Los Angeles club next season. Jasper does not seem to want to play anywhere except in St. Louis. He came to the Coast and pitched one game. He then was overruled by home sickness and beat it back. Powers says that this spell of homesickness cost the local club over $2000.

BURDEN LIFTED OFF JOCKEY CLUB.
EMERYVILLE RACE TRACK SOLD, AND LEASE IS RELEASED.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
OAKLAND, Sept. 23.—The Emeryville Jockey Club has been released from its lease on the Emeryville race track. It was announced today by Hubert Mee, one of the owners of the property, who stated that the track would be sold for other purposes. The lease held by the Jockey Club would not have expired until the end of the year, and although there has been no racing there for four years, it has been kept up in the hope that business might be passed, reviving horse racing in California.

L. A. HIGH MAN JOINS BROOKLYN.
News arrived yesterday from Los Angeles, Ariz., that Earl Thompson, graduate of the Los Angeles High School and local baseball player, has signed a contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers for the season of 1916. All Rock Islands?

The necessity for paying higher rates of interest because of diminished security, and the danger of insolvency in times of business depression. If a reasonable proportion of the new money could be raised by the issue of stock, which, of course, entails no fixed charge, then the margin of safety for the protection of bondholders would not diminish, the credit of the company would remain unimpaired, and the danger of insolvency would be practically eliminated.

However, new capital cannot be raised by the sale of stock unless the investing public has confidence that the railroads will enjoy sufficient earnings, cover and above interest and other fixed charges, to provide for the non-productive improvements which must be constantly made upon the property and also to pay dividends sufficiently large to compensate for the fact that the stockholder takes the risk of loss of dividends or reduction of dividends, in times of business depression.

KILLING OF CONFIDENCE.

In recent years the necessary assurance to investors of such earnings applicable to railroad stock has been greatly impaired by the striking tendency of legislative and other regulating bodies to reduce rates and increase operating expenses and to increase very heavily the burdens of taxation. I believe a public sentiment against the reduction of rates and increase of operating expenses and increase of taxation, and the consequent burdens upon railroad companies is developing, but this sentiment must be translated into positive action favorable to increase rates and reduce

S-H-H—SILENCE!
LID GOES ON.BAN PLACED ON LOBBY BAND AND AUTOPIANO.

Police Commission Says "Loud and Unusual Noises" in Front of Theaters Must Cease and Chief Sully is Instructed to Enforce the Old "Quiet Town" Ordinance.

Main street acoustics were explained to the Police Commission by Chief Sully yesterday when he asked for instructions regarding the enforcement of the "quiet town" ordinance and then he was ordered to close down the lid—easily at first, and later to clamp it down tight. No more bands playing in theater lobbies is the first order, and with the lobby band banished, the orchestra playing in the theater balconies over the sidewalks must also go. Next comes the persistent automatic piano in the postcard shop and the "speakers" in front of some of the other places of amusement along Main street must also refrain from making loud or unusual noises to attract trade or custom.

The question came up when merchants in the vicinity of the Century Theater complained about the noise that plays in the lobby. They said the "noise" could be followed out the entrance and it "blamed up against the buildings across the street and then back again" so that a salesman could not be heard by a customer across the counter.

The Police Commission ordered the Chief to notify all places that the "loud and unusual noises" must cease and, if they don't cease forthwith, to make arrests.

ATTACK IS DELAYED.
NEW CHARITIES ORDINANCE.

Another attempt to cripple the Municipal Charities Commission yesterday was forestalled when the Council refused to adopt an ordinance proposing to eliminate from the powers of the commission all provisions for spending for charitable purposes any money that may at any time come into its possession for charity work. The ordinance was laid on the table and came up as special business for Thursday and at that time it will be formally introduced.

President Johnson of the Charities Commission told the Council that although the recent consolidation of county and city charity work relieved the city of the necessity for appropriating funds for outdoor relief work, it is proper that the Municipal Commission have the right to spend money for the same. He made up the stipulation that they be expended by the commission. Furthermore, he said that the passage of the proposed ordinance would jeopardize the city's interests in suits now pending before the Supreme Court. It was learned yesterday that the commission believes that the city can do the work for less than $400 a month. A few roses that have survived a summer in the sand will be removed and the trees will be cared for as they need attention.

NO SERVICE CHARGE.
UTILITIES BOARD RULES.

The Public Utilities Board decided yesterday that the Coulter Dry Goods Company need not pay the Southern California Edison Company for emergency service unless it happens at some future time that the dry goods company's private lighting plant breaks down and it has to take full service from the Edison company. The case is one that has been threshed over before the board at length and, because of the fact that the Coulter company has regular and an emergency plant of its own and simply uses the Edison current after midnight and on Sundays and holidays, it is not required to pay the "ready to serve" charge.

Complaints of Ross Hill citizens that the Beverwyck Water Company is not maintaining adequate pressure since the board ordered better service last April were heard by the board yesterday and the City Attorney was requested to bring suit to penalize the water company for failure to obey the order.

The Utilities Board informed the Council that billboard at Sixteenth street and Harvard boulevard, which obstructs the view of the Pacific Electric tracks is a menace to public safety, and the board suggests that an order from the Council to move the billboard back forty-five feet will remedy the danger.

In the absence of President Lane, who is on vacation, Commissioner Winchell is acting president of the Utilities Board.

NUISANCE OR UTILITY?
SECRETARY WANTS RULING.

Is the bonded jitbus a public utility or a public nuisance? Secretary McKee of the Police Commission says it is both and he asked the commission yesterday to get a ruling on the question from the City Attorney. Mr. McKee cites court decisions to the effect that the jitbuses are common carriers and he says, therefore, that they should come under the control of the Public Utilities Board.

Explaining his request, Secretary McKee informs the commission that he has found the work of the office in connection with issuing licenses and taking bonds from the jitbus drivers both strenuous and arduous. There has been no former protest, he says, because he believed that the business was only a passing fad and he looked for it to decrease while, in reality, it has been multiplying rapidly. In the event that the City Attorney and the Council do not agree to transfer the business to the Utilities Board, Secretary McKee says he will continue to handle it, but he must ask for more office room and more help.

READY FOR VAGS.
CHIEF ASKS MORE MEN.

Preparing for the annual influx of vagrants that this year will be augmented by the riff raff from San Francisco and San Diego at the close of the exposition, Chief of Police Sully asks for 100 more policemen for a period of five months. The request was approved yesterday by the Police Commission and forwarded to the Council.

Chief Sully calls attention to the provision made January 1, when fifty extra men were allowed for January, February and March, saying that in addition to the force did a great deal toward reducing crime in the city. The need is greater now, he says, and the extra men should be on duty from November to March, inclusive.

"Death Trap" Ordinance.
The Public Works committee recommendation favoring an ordinance to create a "death trap" grade crossing at Sherman drive and Sixteenth street over the Pacific Electric tracks will come before the Council as a special order of business this morning. The committee report was turned down by the Council two weeks ago when the Public Utilities Board reported that a grade crossing at that point would be the most dangerous crossing within the city limits. The Pacific Electric has offered to stand one-half the cost of a $40,000 viaduct and further agreed to advance the $10,000 designated as the city's share if an assessment district will provide the other 25 per cent. of the cost.

Through City Labor Bureau.
Councilman Wheeler offered a resolution providing that the Council shall inform all departments to engage their emergency help through the municipal employment bureau and the resolution was carried without opposition.

Takes Another License.
Charles E. Wiley, holder of a No. 1 restaurant liquor license at No. 414 East Fifth street, appeared before the Police Commission yesterday to defend his right to a license because the restaurant is owned and operated by a company and the license was issued to him personally. At the hearing it developed that some of Wiley's friends think they can sing, but the proprietor of the rooming-house upstairs says the alleged singing is simply noise, and annoying noise, that Wiley agreed to apply for a second-class restaurant liquor license and to keep the music within reasonable bounds, and his first-class license was revoked.

Expects House to Topple.
Charles Menzies, living in the Nob Hill district at the harbor, notified the Board of Public Works yesterday that because of the excavation for the Harbor boulevard improvement, his house is about to topple over into the forty-foot cut. The city, he says, will be held responsible for any damage in case his house rolls down the bank.

Mr. Menzies applied for damages several months ago and his claim was denied. The claim repeated yesterday was referred to the City Attorney for investigation and report.

City Will Do the Work.
The Council Finance Committee yesterday notified the Board of Public Works to tell the County Supervisors that hereafter the city will attend to watering the trees and roses along the San Fernando road in the territory recently annexed to the city. This decision was reached after Councilmen Wheeler and Betkowski, President Handley of the Board of Public Works, with members of the 1915 committee, went over the roads in the San Fernando district. The Councilmen believe that the city can do the work for less than $400 a month. A few roses that have survived a summer in the sand will be removed and the trees will be cared for as they need attention.

Substantial Appreciation.
J. A. Soule, assistant assessment clerk, who on September 4 stopped a runaway team at Second and Broadway at the cost of a broken leg, was commended for his bravery yesterday by the Board of Public Works. The substantial part of the commendation was an order that he be kept on the city pay roll during his disability.

Cafe License Denied.
Ritchie, Dunsler & Penney, who formed a company recently intending to open a cafe in the basement of the Lankershim Building, were denied a license by the Police Commission yesterday. The Chief of Police reported that the three men had been residents of Los Angeles for some time, and as waiters, head waiters or managers, one of them having been head waiter at three local cafes during the last five years.

NIGHTSHIRT AND CRUELTY.
HUSBAND'S GARMENT IN WIFE'S SISTER'S SUITCASE?

Divorce Judge Remarks that He Thinks Something about It When Witness is Asked Whether She Did Spinster in Case Prepared to Refute Allegations.

When Miss Sue Pierce, a music teacher, went to San Diego on a visit to her parents, she carried, it was testified in Judge Monroe's court yesterday, a suit case containing, among other things, the nightshirt of her brother-in-law, Dr. Ralph Ellis Burns. Under ordinary circumstances the presence of a married man's nightshirt in the suit case of a spinster, a member of his family, would pass unchallenged, but in this instance, because a coldness had crept between Dr. Burns and his wife, Mrs. Mary Pierce Burns, the episode caused comment.

Mrs. Harriet Pierce, the aged mother of the sisters, yesterday championed her married daughter in the latter's divorce suit, charging cruelty. She had observed the indifference of Dr. Burns toward Mary and noted his attention to Sue, the mother said, adding that she "did not approve of it." She had also observed the nightshirt, and regarding it she was examined closely.

"How do you know it was the doctor's nightshirt?" she was asked. "Well, it was the one he wore," she replied.

"Did you think anything about it?" "If she didn't, I do," commented Judge Monroe.

Laughter from the spectators and sharp clapping of gloves had followed the court's remark. But as a result of this breach of court etiquette the room was cleared, and the trial proceeded before empty benches.

Mrs. Burns charged that her sister's attitude toward Dr. Burns caused her great anguish, and told in detail of many occasions.

"I was always very affectionate," she testified. "I always sat in the doctor's lap and talked to him. I noticed a change in him in July, 1907, when Sue came. I observed that he became more affectionate with her. He became cold and indifferent toward me. Once when I sat on his lap he very rudely shoved me off. I sat down in a chair. Sue on his lap and stayed there several minutes." Miss Sue and the doctor took walks together, Mrs. Burns said, and they went to the mountains together.

"Sue began to go about the house in her nightdress. She began to dress improperly before my husband. She would be in the door in her nightgown and he would sit in the dining room. He could see her form through the nightgown."

These and other incidents were related which caused the court to ask why she did not send her sister away. There were several reasons. One was that her parents were coming from Iowa and they would take her to San Diego. She spoke to her husband about Sue, and he laughed at her. Sue is said to have retorted, when rebuked: "Evil to him who evil thinks. He is nothing but my brother-in-law."

On Reed street, where they resided in the early years of their married life, Sue was charged with going to the house while Mrs. Burns was gone. Mrs. Burns said she was a next-door neighbor, and she testified that she saw Sue and the doctor in the house after Mrs. Burns had gone.

Mrs. Burns' nerves gave way, she said, because of the alleged growing affection of the doctor for his sister-in-law. Christmas, 1912, was not a merry one. She said the doctor gave her a petticoat and Sue a necklace. Sue gave him a set of books costing $56. When the Burns moved into the Reed street house, a neighbor testified that she thought Sue, whose hair is red, was the wife, and Mary, a brunette, a governess. Another neighbor testified that Mrs. Burns was so much together caused comment.

For the sake of her boy, Mrs. Burns said, she did not bring matters to a climax, and was willing to live with the doctor at Ocean Park Heights, where they subsequently moved. If Sue did not interfere, but Sue came on week-end visits.

Miss Pierce was in the courtroom ready to refute the charges of her sister. Dr. Burns was also present, represented by Attorney S. W. Odell. He claims his wife is jealous; that he only showed Sue a brotherly affection. Dr. Burns is represented by Attorney Johnson and H. C. Gardner of San Diego. Dr. Burns was called to the stand shortly before adjournment, and denied in toto all of his wife's allegations affecting the relations of Miss Pierce and himself. The trial will be resumed today.

TO JURY TODAY.
DAVIS FRAUD CASE.

Judge Craig will charge the jury this morning in the trial of K. J. Davis charged with forgery in a realty transaction. Testimony was completed and the arguments of the attorneys were made yesterday.

Deputy District Attorney Shannon states that Davis planned to defraud the Title Guarantee and Trust Company and Dr. John M. Lee of Sierra Madre. The allegation is that Davis represented to E. S. Tatum, a real estate dealer, that he wanted to sell a lot worth $7000 in the Westminster tract for $2100. Deputy District Attorney Shannon states that Tatum knew Dr. Lee was the owner of the property, and that the low price placed upon it by Davis aroused his suspicions, so he communicated with Dr. Lee. The Sierra Madre man declared he had no intention of disposing of the property.

The District Attorney's office was notified and Detective Margolin detailed to the case. It is alleged that with the aid of "dummies" Davis had secured forged deeds purporting to show the transfer of the lot from Dr. Lee to the former.

CLOTHES MEANT JOB.
SO POET HELPED HIMSELF.
Sidney Raymond Flowers, poet, advertising man and commercial artist, who says he received a salary of $12,000 a year for some time while located in Johannesburg, South Africa, found himself in the Superior Court on the charge of breaking into the Webb-Fisher Company's store, No. 229 South Spring street, on September 29 and taking two suits of street clothes, an evening suit, an overcoat and a suit case.

Flowers had his preliminary examination before Judge Brown yesterday, and was held to answer, but released on his own recognizance. His wife pledged that he would be in court when wanted. The testimony of the defendant was that he had a fine business in Johannesburg which was ruined by an insurrection; that he came with his wife and child to Los Angeles, but could only get an occasional day's work in moving pictures, his wife obtaining a position in a cafeteria.

Flowers said that he had the prospect of securing a good position with the Universal Film Company, which provided he had a suitable wardrobe. He chose the apparently easiest way of getting the garments and was captured while leaving the store, which he had entered through a skylight. Justice Brown raised the point that to release Flowers on his own recognizance would be simply to put the income of his wife to an extra burden, but she spoke earnestly in her husband's behalf, saying he would earn the money and that she would assure his appearance in court at the proper time.

"ARSON TRUST."
COMPLAINT ISSUED.
Upon the request of Oakland officials, a complaint was issued yesterday by Deputy District Attorney Shannon.

Blanch Matthews of Royton, Pa., prevented from coming to Los Angeles to claim a fortune of $125,000, which she and her husband, James L. Matthews, received of a cablegram at the Mortimer, British Vice-Consul, applied to the Probate Court yesterday to be appointed Mary Matthews' guardian. She is 14. The cablegram was left by David Mulberry, a distant relative.

STATUS QUO. Judge Whitworth yesterday continued in force his order restraining the Red Cross from interfering with the affairs of the Southern California Pig Raisers' Association, which will be tried on its merits that date. Meanwhile, the company was instructed to pay the reduction in rates. The association was instructed to pay the reduction in rates.

BLANCHARD ESTATE. The probate yesterday through Attorney Will D. Gould and James L. Matthews, which the estate is appraised at $125,000. The estate is left to Mary Matthews, the wife of the deceased. H. Blanchard, the husband, was a resident of No. 219 West Second street. The next of kin are Blanche Henry of this city, a sister, and Shackleford of New York, a brother.

CONVICTED OF FORGERY. Jury in Judge Craig's court yesterday will receive sentence tomorrow. The charges were that Weaver forged the name of E. S. Russell, a well-known Glendale, an indorser of a $1000 given by Weaver to the National Bank of Glendale. The handwriting of Weaver was taken as that on the note by Milton E. Olson, handwriting expert.

JURORS DISAGREE. Mary, a 17-year-old girl, had her preliminary examination before Judge Brown yesterday for the purpose of allowing the jury to hear the testimony of the father, who was on trial on statutory charges. Deputy District Attorney Stanford called the attention of the jury to the alleged facial resemblance, but discrepancies in the testimony apparently had weighed the jury, as, after several hours of consideration, it was unable to reach a verdict and was discharged yesterday morning.
